

ALHFAM Committee on Regional Networking (CORN) report
October 2015

As of October 7, 2015 reports have been received from all regions except Atlantic Canada.

Most regions are functioning well although the Canadian regions continue to struggle with succession and conference planning.

All regions have had conferences in 2015 with the exception of the Canadian and Mountain Plains regions. The Mountain Plains regional rep will be encouraging members to attend the Texas Living History Association meeting in January. Several regions have conferences planned two or more years in advance.

Progress has been made in succession planning as most reporting regions now have co-regional chairs (named varyingly) and additional officers (membership chairs, treasurers, etc.). The Western Canada rep indicates she is trying to recruit a co-chair and will continue her efforts. Central Canada also indicates they will be trying to find additional officers.

There have been some issues with regions not using the branding guidelines consistently (also an issue with some PIGs). I will resend these guidelines in late October.

Four of the reporting regions indicate they plan to publish a newsletter this fall or spring. Most have Facebook pages. I would like to explore the capabilities of the new website as the primary means of facilitating regional communication. Facebook is imperfect (at best) in fostering useful discussion or effectively disseminating information and newsletters are inconsistently published. Having all of the regional information in one place, our website, could be beneficial.

There are continuing issues with finances in the New England region. See the attached report.

There was discussion about putting regional funds under the control of the ALHFAM Secretary/Treasurer (as they technically “belong” to the larger organization). I am uncertain that now is the right time for this given the transition period of this position. This could also prove to be difficult in future years as it would require regional reps/treasurers to obtain a new co-signer for their accounts every time the Secretary/Treasurer position changes hands. More discussion is warranted.

Only the Southeast and MOMCC have by-laws. I will encourage the other regions to adopt their own to ensure the forward movement in succession planning is codified and not abandoned.

Semi-annual reports from the regions follow.

Respectfully submitted,

Deb Arenz, CORN chair
