

ALHFAM is an organization of people who bring history to life.

Are you involved with:

- museum collections?
- preservation?
- interpretation of material culture?
- interactive programming, education, and events?
- traditional skills and trades?
- historical processes?

So are we!

We help you improve the quality of your public programs.

ALHFAM's original focus on farming and agriculture has expanded to embrace disciplines from Architecture to Zymurgy (fermenting processes) - and countless subjects in between.

Alongside our professional development, ALHFAM members learn, grow and laugh. Our conferences, workshops and social events are lively, creative, energetic, and all-inclusive. We are a diverse, international family that has been growing for 50 years.

Our "ALHFAMily" members include:

- museums, historic places and living history sites
- staff and management of those institutions
- volunteers with these institutions, or people looking to become volunteers
- independent scholars, exhibit developers, consultants, educators, interpreters, program specialists, curators
- historic interpreters and educators
- artisans and practitioners of historic skills and trades
- vendors of goods and services
- military and civilian reenactors of many historical eras and experiences
- history enthusiasts

We expand relationships and partnerships.
